DRUGS, GUNS & GANGS IN ILLINOIS SCHOOLS

For Educators, Law Enforcement and Probation Officers

DUTY, POWERS AND RESTRICTIONS IN TODAY'S CLASSROOMS

CAN YOU AFFORD TO ATTEND?

In the midst of a budget crisis, school boards in Texas and Florida recently approved their states' version of this course for their personnel. They are convinced that goal-oriented seminars create a more positive school climate, better classroom management, more confident students and ultimately higher test scores.

Gary Avery, J.D., a fixture in Illinois seminars, MTU training sessions and school conferences since 1990, returns to present the course that has awed more than 9,000 Illinois educators and 3500 law enforcement officers. At one time a junior high teacher and later a University law professor, Gary spent most of his law career as a prosecutor and municipal and school board attorney. So the real question is:

OUR ILLINOIS HISTORY

In 1989, at the invitation of members of the Chicago Police Dept., Mrs. Pat Holecek, widow of a fallen police officer, brought her small company's resources to Illinois' police and schools. Since that time we are gratified to have done multiple programs for various MTU's, an annual conference for the Illinois High School Deans, a multi-day retreat for Decatur Schools, inservice programs for 17 school districts and seminars on regular and special education, police-school partnerships and specialized police liability issues.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

A REQUEST TO OUR PAST TRAINING CLIENTS

In a different economic era, every past attendee and every school in Illinois received a mailed notice of each training program. You responded by sending people to two and three sessions a year and your comments let us know it was worth what you spent. Today your calls and e-mails as to when we are returning buoy us up. But we know your budget may not allow you to attend, so our former mass mailings are out of the question. THEREFORE WE NEED YOUR HELP.

You are receiving this because of your past loyalty. Most of your associates will know of our training only if you copy this flyer and pass it on. If we can count on you we can continue providing knowledge that makes your job easier, safer and more effective. Thank you for your help.

Sincerely,
Patricia Holecek, CEO, Law Advisory
